

An isometric illustration on a teal background depicting digital privacy. A large, dashed white wireframe cube is the central focus. Inside and around the cube are various elements: a man in a red shirt sits on a curved dashed line at the top, using a laptop; a woman in a green coat stands on the left with a red speech bubble; a large smartphone is positioned vertically in the center, showing a play button and a lock icon; a man in a striped shirt stands on the right, interacting with a horizontal bar of stars, some of which are locked; a man in a white shirt stands on the bottom right, talking on a phone with a yellow speech bubble containing a lock icon; a woman in a teal top and yellow skirt stands on the bottom left, looking at a large tablet that displays the word 'PRIVACY' and a person's profile; a man with a backpack is running on the left side. Dashed lines connect these elements, suggesting a network or flow of information.
